

Sad Sad Song

David Potts 2014

Key of G

I saw her there in the pale moonlight
I never saw a prettier sight
I thought right then I'd make her mine
How could I know she weren't the marrying kind

Chorus

Thought I'd found my one true love
But she flew away like a lonesome dove
She spread her wings and she was gone
And all she left was this sad song

I closed my eyes and she was gone
She left me here all alone
The sun don't shine any more
Since she walked out thru that door

Chorus

Thought I'd found my one true love
But she flew away like a lonesome dove
She spread her wings and she was gone
And all she left was this sad song

Now I'm standing here in the pale moonlight
Never saw such a pitiful sight
How could I ever been so wrong
This lonesome fool with a sad, sad song

Chorus

Thought I'd found my one true love

But she flew away like a lonesome dove
She spread her wings and she was gone
And all she left was this sad song

She spread her wings and she was gone
And all she left was this sad song
