

You Can't Change a Broken Woman

Key of G

David Potts 2011

I took a chance on pretty girl, didn't know how she'd rock my world
I thought we saw things eye to eye, how could I know it was all a lie

My heart breaks for goodness sakes, I just don't know how long it takes
For the pain to go away, but I'm pretty sure it won't be today

Wasn't long till things got rough, one man's heart was just not enough
I forgave her once and I forgave her twice now let me give you some good advice

You can't change a broken woman
When she wants to crash and burn
She hates herself and those that love her
I just pray someday she'll learn
Oh Lord I pray someday she'll learn

She walks on hearts like the ground beneath her just to ease the pain in her heart
She can't accept God's forgiveness and give herself a new start

She tries sometimes to make a change and leave the one's that cause her pain
But it's not long till the dark side calls her then she runs thinking she will be free

Chorus

SLOW - Oh you can't change a broken woman
When she want's to crash and burn
