Key of D

I'm near the end, end of the road
My long journey will soon be done
But I don't mind I know who's waiting
On the other side of the setting sun

On the other side He'll be waiting
Waiting there to set me free
The price was paid for the heavy laden
On a cross on a hill called Calvary

Chorus

But you can't buy it, it ain't for sale
And you can't earn it, you'll surely fail
The price was paid and now we're free
On a cross on a hill called called Calvary

As He drug the cross up that hill
His Father soon to make the deal
To sacrifice His Son for the chosen ones
His tomb was sealed before the setting sun

Chorus

Then they saw the stone rolled away
He had risen our debts were paid
Now He sits on the right of our Father
As He prepares a home for us one day

Chorus G
